

THE THEATERGOER™

Volume II Number 14

October 1983

Just visitin' OFF-OFF-BROADWAY, Whitesburg Kentucky's Roadside Theater. We found "South of the Mountain," musical and story by Ron Short, a tender, warm-hearted evocation of an Appalachian family's life over several generations. Humor bubbles along naturally like mountain cider, and is personalized by the "conversations" cast has with audience. When one member of family discovers wonders of modern plumbing and radio, it is treated with such naivete and genuineness that we were touched and amused. A presentation with Dance Theater Workshop's Economy Tires Theater.
